to overpower the hijacker.
"The man was all wrought up," Calney said.
He was described as about 25, dressed in a sloppy manner, dark complexioned and claiming to be South American although he spoke with no apparent accent.

At 3:37 p.m. seven minutes after the jet took off from Tampa airport with 102 passengers and a crew of seven, the flight was hijacked over Florida's Lake Okeechobee. The plane landed at Havana at 4:29 p.m. It took off again for the United States at 7:36 p.m. and arrived at Miami at 8:17 p.m.

This was the first commercial airliner hijacked over the United States to land in Cuba. In 1961, a Pan American flight was diverted over Mexico to Cuba. Two National Airlines flights were hijacked in flight but passengers and crew disarmed the hijackers and the planes landed in the United States. Many small planes have been successfully hijacked to Cuba.

Passengers said they were treated well during the airport stopover in Havana. Some were interviewed and photographed by Cuban newsmen, they said. Others brought back souvenirs including Cuban rum, some of which was consumed on the return flight, and political posters.

"They gave us Cuban coffee and juice and permitted us to go through the airport," said Lex Hawkins, 42, a lawyer from Des Moines, Iowa.
Soldiers at the airport passed around Cuban cigars.

Fulbright Says Congress Was Misled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright says the administration misled Congress and is deceiving the public about the 1964 Gulf of Tonkin incident, which generated U.S. military escalation in Vietnam.

He also charged Wednesday that the Pentagon hauled off for mental examination a Navy commander who had volunteered to tell Congress what he knew of the incident.

Fulbright accused Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of deceiving the public in releasing a 21-page statement the defense chief presented Tuesday to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Fulbright told newsmen he does not subscribe to a position he attributed to one-time McNamara aide Arthur Sylvester, whom he quoted as saying "the government has the right to lie to the people of this country."

The Arkansas Democrat's charges came after the committee, which he heads, refused his request to make public staff findings on the Gulf of Tonkin incident.

Fulbright told newsmen after Wednesday's committee meeting he felt the staff report was necessary to counter-balance what he termed the one-sided McNamara statement.

At issue is the August 1964 incident in which the administration said two U.S. destroyers, the Maddox and Turner Joy, were attacked by North Vietnamese torpedo boats in the Gulf of Tonkin.

The incident produced the so-called Tonkin Gulf resolution in which the Senate, by an overwhelming vote, called on President Johnson to take all steps necessary to "prevent further aggression."

The first U.S. bombing attacks on North Vietnam—and a sharp escalation of U.S. military forces committed to the war—quickly followed.

Fulbright, who was floor manager for the administration-requested resolution, has since strongly opposed U.S. policy in Vietnam and contends Congress was given inadequate information about the Tonkin Gulf incident.

His committee initiated a "staff study" of the naval engagement and reportedly found evidence conflicting with the administration's version of what happened.

Bomb Leads Are Under FBI Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Working under President Johnson's personal order to clear up the case quickly, police and FBI agents probing a bomb explosion at the Soviet Embassy are exploring a possible link with a dynamite theft in nearby Virginia.

They said Wednesday night they had "several leads" on the case.

Eighteen sticks of dynamite and 50 blasting caps were reported stolen from a construction site in West Springfield, Va., a Washington suburb.

The theft was noticed Wednesday shortly after the pre-dawn explosion shook the four-story embassy, just four blocks from the White House.

No one was hurt in the blast but it did slight damage to a first-floor office and reception room, shattered windows in nearby buildings—and shook U.S.-Soviet relations.

The Soviet government formally protested the incident, accused the United States of providing inadequate protection and demanded compensation.

Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk expressed regrets but the State Department rejected the charge of inadequate protection. There were indications the Soviets would be compensated.

One embassy official said the explosion could have been the work of fanatics inflamed by a three-day mock trial of communism which ended Wednesday on the Georgetown University campus in Washington. It was sponsored by a coalition of anti-Communist groups and included lengthy testimony concerning prison torture and religious persecution in Iron Curtain countries.

Police had no comment on this theory.

An embassy source also said the FBI should have photographs of the dynamites because it maintains camera surveillance on the embassy from a window across the street. But the FBI wouldn't comment on that.

A Third of Schools in Florida Closed

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) —

A third of Florida's public schools were closed today as nearly 40 per cent of the state's teaching corps scheduled more public meetings despite a personal plea from Gov. Claude Kirk for an immediate return to the classroom.

The Republican governor, who was censured by the Florida Education Association last fall for his stand on education spending, told the teachers he has no plans to call another special session of the legislature in the near future.

"There's no reason to go ahead and spend $17,000 a day until we see where we stand," Kirk said. The governor said he might consider a second special session if the Democratic-controlled legislature indicates its attitude has changed.

The state Department of Education, reporting on a survey of Florida's 1,549 schools Wednesday, said 503 schools were closed. Several counties reported additional schools would be closed today for "planning days" called by school boards.

The survey indicated 24,731 teachers were absent and 33,514 were continuing to report to work. Most of those absent have resigned, the FEA said.

In Tallahassee, state attorneys obtained a Feb. 28 hearing date on their petition to have FEA officials cited for contempt of court for allegedly violating a court injunction against inducing teachers to remain away from classes.

The FEA called for mass resignations last Friday after rejecting a $254.5 million spending and tax package passed by the legislature.

County school boards have drawn heavily on Florida's big pool of retirees in manning the still-open schools, using former teachers, lawyers and chemists as substitute teachers. The practice has drawn criticism from the FEA and its county affiliates, who contend the substitutes in many cases are not qualified.

Disciplinary problems, mild during the first two days of the walkout, erupted on a larger scale Wednesday as violence broke out in at least two points.

tories in the South and of shooting down more than 2,000 U.S. warplanes in the three-year bombing campaign against the North. The U.S. Command has accused Radio Hanoi of gross exaggeration and distortion.

The station apparently had heretofore been on the Pentagon's list of targets out of bounds to U.S. pilots.

The station is 3½ miles west-southwest of the center of Hanoi. Normally targets that close in require the approval of the Pentagon and possibly of President Johnson.

A military spokesman said the station was a 100 by 100 foot concrete building protected by a concrete blast wall. The bomb strikes were made by radar because of a 3,000-foot overcast, and because of this pilots could make no assessment of damage.

Monitors in Saigon said late Thursday afternoon that Radio Hanoi was still coming in "loud and clear" on all short-wave frequencies. However, other sources said some of the bombs from the U.S. Marine A6 Intruders could have hit the medium-wave transmitters that broadcast inside North Vietnam.

Man Killed in 2-Car Crash

WEST HELENA, Ark. (AP) —

Howard E. Ivy, 24, of Lexa (Phillips County) was killed Wednesday night in a two-car crash about six miles west of here on U.S. 49.

State Police said Ivy was a passenger in a car driven by Rufus Clark, 27, also of Lexa. Authorities said the Clark vehicle collided with a car driven by Bernice Fields, 26, of Marvel.

Clark and Miss Fields were hospitalized.

Negro Sees Victory in Mississippi

By JOHN PEARCE

Associated Press Writer

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) —

Charles Evers, brother of a slain civil rights leader, predicted Wednesday he would defeat six white opponents in his campaign to become Mississippi's first Negro congressman since 1881. However, the odds against Evers, 45, appeared to be heavy in the special election to be held next Tuesday.

If no candidate receives a majority of the votes cast, the two who wind up first and second will face each other in a runoff March 12. Informal polls give Evers a good chance to finish in the first two, but virtually no chance of winning a runoff.

At stake is the seat from the 12-county southwest Mississippi third district represented for 21 years by John Bell Williams, a strong segregationist, who was elected governor last November.

Evers advocates U.S. withdrawal from the Vietnam war and curtailment of spending on space programs in order to make more federal funds available for welfare purposes. He proposes what he calls a program of "workfare" featuring government-guaranteed jobs paying at least $50 a week.

Welfare programs in most parts of Mississippi have a ceiling of $50 a month, which Evers says "falls far short of the national average and does not mask the human suffering that results from inadequate payments to these Mississippians."

Arrayed against Evers in the special election are five Democrats and one Republican, all white and all opposed to the general themes of Evers' campaign.

Among the other candidates is Charles H. Griffin, who served Williams 18 years as an aide. He is rated a top contender, as is state Sen. Ellis Bodron of Vicksburg, who graduated from law school with honors despite blindness.

The Republican, Hagan Thompson of Jackson, is an unknown quantity. Thompson resigned as news director of a Jackson radio-television station to make the race. Another outsider is Troy Watkins, a former mayor of Natchez who ran well in the race for lieutenant governor last summer.

Dist. Atty. Joe N. Pigott of McComb and David L. Perkins, a Jackson chiropractor, are others in the field.

Evers received a leave of absence as state field director for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People to make the race.

He took that job in 1963, when he returned to Mississippi from Chicago after his brother Medgar, the previous director, was slain by a sniper outside his home in Jackson.

Legislature May Return Next May

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature wrapped up its first special session of the year Wednesday and headed home for a two-month recess.

The legislators, in session for two and a half weeks, are expected to be called back in May to consider financial matters, including a possible tax increase proposal.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller expressed general satisfaction with the legislature's accomplishments during the special session.

The General Assembly pushed through major bills to set up a constitutional convention, effect prison reform and establish a minimum wage. The governor has signed all three into law.

Rockefeller's only major defeat in the special session came when the House refused to pass a bill to qualify former State Police Director Lynn A. Davis for immediate reappointment.

Both houses passed the bill after the House amended it to require that the State Police director be a qualified elector. This means he must have been a resident of the state for a year. Davis asked that his name be withdrawn as a candidate for the post after the amended bill passed.

The special session created controversy between the administration and the legislators. Many lawmakers said they felt the session wasn't needed and others said the session lasted longer than it should have because the administration wasn't ready for it.

There was sharp criticism from both sides during virtually each day of the 13 days the legislature was in session, but in the end both Rockefeller and the legislators generally were pleased with the session.

"We accomplished what we came down to do," said Sen. Morrell Gathright of Pine Bluff.

"The legislature was a lot better to Winthrop Rockefeller than he has ever been to the legislature," said Sen. Guy Jones of Conway.

Black Power Advocate Back in Jail

By BILL CRIDER

Associated Press Writer

NEW ORLEANS (AP) —

Black Power advocate H. Rap Brown was in jail today as his lawyer drafted a defense on a new charge and tried to raise $100,000 bond.

Attorney William Kunster of New York hoped to get the bond reduced at the preliminary hearing, the next legal step facing the militant Negro leader.

The new charge was imposed on Brown, a spokesman for the Student Nonviolent Coordinating Committee, after he lost a legal argument in federal court about a court order limiting his travel.

The FBI said Brown, during a recess, told FBI Agent William H. Smith Jr., also a Negro, that: "We will get you . . . We better not find out where you live, and if you have any children we will get them, too."

When Brown walked out of the courtroom Wednesday, vowing to go on a hunger strike in jail, the FBI hustled him to a U.S. commissioner's office to hear the charge of intimidating and impeding an FBI agent.

Commissioner Fritz H. Winthorst fixed bond at $50,000.

In federal court, a few minutes earlier, Brown's bond on another charge—violation of a federal firearms law—had been reset at $50,000 and he had been ordered to forfeit $5,000 of his old $15,000 bond.

Judge Lansing Mitchell ordered the forfeit as punishment for violation of his order that Brown confine his travel to Louisiana, New York and Atlanta, Ga., pending trial.

Brown turned up at recent Black Power rallies in Los Angeles and Oakland, Calif. He was then arrested on a Louisiana warrant Tuesday at a friend's apartment in New York City.

"This is being done for only one reason: to silence this man," argued Kunster. "This is naked rape of the First Amendment (Guaranteeing free speech)."

The firearms charge against Brown said he violated the law by carrying a gun around while under federal indictment.

Specifically, the charge was

Dentures Keep Smiling Down

CHICAGO (AP) — George Washington wasn't exactly the grinning type, his portraits demonstrate, and it may be because of his false teeth.

For years he had to wear uncomfortable teeth made of hippopotamus or elephant ivory, according to Minnie Orfanos, director of the Northwestern University dental school library.

The library has an original letter by Washington's New York dentist, John Greenwood, and copies of letters Washington wrote to him.

Dentures containing human teeth, probably taken from cadavers, were fitted in 1789. Greenwood made Washington false teeth in 1791 and 1796 that were carved individually of ivory.

On Jan. 20, 1797 Washington sent his favorite dentures with two carved ivory teeth that had worked loose from the gold base. He requested a speedy repair job saying the substitute set was "uneasy" in his mouth and made his lips bulge and appear swollen.

that he took a .30-caliber rifle from New York to New Orleans and back while under indictment at Cambridge, Md., on charges of arson and inciting riots.

Brown strode off to his cell wearing handcuffs.

"I'll stay there until I am released or die because I will refuse all food and water," he said.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bittel

UNIVERSAL PROBLEM:

OLD-FASHIONED PARENTS

Dear Helen: I'm nearly 15. My parents think I should live the way they did when they were young, which is one pair of shoes a year; in the house before dark; bed every night at 9:00; no lipstick, no mascara for another year; phone calls only from girls, and not more than 10 minutes a night; no interest in boys—even as friends—until I'm 16. I'm a good student, and sensible.

When I have company, my father barges in and starts talking about the olden days. I could die of embarrassment. No girl ever had parents like mine! I feel better now that I have written to you, as I think you're in favor of me.—T.Y.L.J.O.A.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Graydon Anthony, Jr. and Mrs. Kendall Yocom, both of Bay City, Tex., have been at the bedside of their mother, Mrs. John Wester, who underwent surgery at Memorial Hospital recently.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Davis returned home Saturday from Albuquerque, N. M., after the funeral for his brother, Henry, last Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Filipo and family, Stamps, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler over the weekend.

Mrs. A. L. Park and Mrs. Tom Kinser went to Hutto, Tex., this weekend, and Mrs. Bennie Downing and sons, Scott and Bryan, came home with them for a few days.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — It's not easy to turn out a new show each week—different host, different guest stars, different theme, but that's the format of NBC's Wednesday night "Music Hall." Under the circumstances, it is not surprising that it is a show with ups and downs. "Music Hall," too, is one of those middle-of-the-road programs, designed to appeal to all ages, and offend and shock none. Thus this week's edition, called "The Class of '68," really didn't do much more than present some attractive people singing songs and make a rather feeble stab at some comedy. The show was billed as "a salute" to this year's college graduates, but just about all the college atmosphere was a bunch of extras dressed like students who sat around and applauded on cue.

John Davidson, an attractive singer who is, however, several years beyond college, was the host of the show. Then there were singers Michele Lee, Buffy Sainte Marie, Tom Jones and the Fifth Dimension, a rock group, and comedian Flip Wilson without much material to work with.

"The Jonathan Winters Show" followed on CBS. Winters had a pretty funny opening Wednesday night, playing a gun-happy soldier of fortune submitting to an interview. But the show silt down hill after that. Paula Prentiss and Dick Benjamin turned up in a satiric musical salute to New York—noting its bad air, crime rate and garbage problems—in a fashion that may bring complaints from the city fathers. Then there was a spoof of films about decadent Southern families—about the 10th of its kind this season and hopefully the last.

The show seemed perfunctory and, even at this early stage of its life, a bit tired.

If the three networks stick with present plans, there will be 13 weekly prime time hours of variety next season, plus all sorts of specials. Since most of them stick to the same recipe of music and sketches, the competition for guest stars will be even hotter than it has been this season. Don Rickles, whose style of insult comedy is in high demand, counted up recently and found that he had appeared in spot shots 60 times this season. That is a lot of television exposure.

NBC's "Daniel Boone" is going to lose his Oxford-educated Indian sidekick next season. Ed Ames has already discarded his brakis and war paint, and is turning to other acting and concert chores. It is currently not known whether Daniel will find himself a new pal, but it may be significant that Jimmy Dean recently appeared in a couple of episodes.

etc., etc. (A composite of two dozen similar letters received by me this week.)

Dear TYLJOA: Yes, I'm in favor of you, and I hope your parents will soon jump off that age-12 plateau where so many elders seem to bog down. At 15, a sensible, mature girl needs these overstrict rules like she needs training wheels. She's ready for tasteful make-up, less sleep (eight or nine hours a night is plenty!) and a bit of male attention.—H.

Dear Helen: I am 23, and engaged to a very sweet and attractive girl. For six years I've been tied down with college and law school. With things easing up, I have an urge to date another girl who attracts me.

To tell the truth, I'm at the point where I don't think I love my fiancée. However, I'm afraid that if I break off, I may discover I was wrong.

Should I keep the engagement and expect love to return after marriage?—I.D.K.

Dear I: Why not discuss this with your fiancée? Perhaps you each need a temporary break from the other.

My IGAP ("I'm Guessing Again Perception") tells me she too has doubts, and might welcome a three-month moratorium. When an engaged fellow gets a roving eye it's quite often because his girl has already cooled off but is afraid to tell him.—H

Dear Helen: Does anyone have instructions for knitting a mirror warmer for a car? I want to make one for my boyfriend.—SIS

Dear Sis: I've heard of tea cosy's, but a "mirror warmer" has me stumped. Maybe some of you hep kids out there can tell me why a mirror needs warming, and how it's done.—H

Dear Helen: This is a word to teenagers and their parents. I'll start with my generation first:

I can't say I really understand my parents. First I tried playing the sweet little innocent. No dice. Then I went the other way, arguing, slamming doors, the whole bit. Believe me, it's a miserable way to live.

Then I decided I'd hit the happy medium and treat them almost on my own level. Man, that's great! No more problems. Even though I haven't been exactly an angel, my parents now trust me—and my friends think THEY are really boss. The key: treat adults like humans.

Now to you parents: Don't try to understand your kids—they like you better when you're a little baffled by them. Don't push, and don't argue. Lay down the law, but don't lecture about it. We like rules, but not sermons. Get involved with their fun—but only when you're wanted—and your teens will fill the generation gap for you. Just love 'em!—AGE 14

Cadets Are Caught With Marijuana

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy says 13 midshipmen face dismissal on charges of smoking marijuana in their rooms in Bancroft Hall, the academy dormitory.

Rear Adm. Draper L. Kauffman, the superintendent, said Wednesday the dismissal recommendation would be made to Secretary of the Navy Paul R. Ignatius.

Acceptance of the recommendation by the secretary is generally considered a formality. It would be the largest group dismissed from the academy in its 123-year history.

The incident marked the second time in 10 months that midshipmen had been caught smoking marijuana in the dormitory that houses the 4,000-man brigade of midshipmen. Four were dismissed in a similar incident last June.

Kauffman said the current problem came to light after an unidentified midshipman reported that he "had seen several midshipmen who appeared to be smoking marijuana in a midshipman's room in Bancroft Hall."

A spokesman at the academy said the midshipman made his observation over the weekend and felt bound by the strict honor code to report to his superiors.

The academy said the Naval Investigative Service in Washington investigated the incident and would continue its probe to determine the source of the drug and stop its use.

Though the names of those involved were not released, the academy said they included 11 juniors, one sophomore and one freshman.

Smoking marijuana is a violation of academy regulations, U.S. Navy regulations and of the Uniform Code of Military Justice.

A spokesman said the midshipmen involved would probably not face disciplinary action such as a court-martial but would simply be dismissed and become eligible for the draft.

Sees Little Value of Thant's Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Administration sources expressed little optimism that U.N. Secretary-General U Thant's talks with President Johnson on Vietnam will produce any new U.S. peace move.

As Thant and Johnson prepared to talk, several Senate critics of U.S. war policy expressed doubts about the South Vietnamese government's stability following a new rupture in its program to rebuild cities shattered in repulsing Viet Cong attacks.

Thant's visit to the White House today is considered, sources said, simply an extension of his recent trips to Europe and Asia in which he sounded out North Vietnamese officials about peace talks.

Diplomatic sources at the United Nations said Tuesday Thant would tell the President that the North Vietnamese will discuss anything the Americans want if U.S. bombing of the North is halted.

But observers here noted Thant was represented, following his recent meeting in Paris with a North Vietnamese spokesman, as saying the United States and North Vietnam remain too far apart on peace talk terms to hold out hope for negotiations in the near future.

The U.N. sources said North Vietnam still is insisting on an unconditional halt to U.S. bombing of the North, Johnson has made clear he'll order a bombing halt only if North Vietnam agrees not to take military advantage of such a pause.

The panel's news conference came several hours after Thant wound up a brief Washington visit in which he reported to Johnson on his recent peace-probe journey to India, the Soviet Union, Britain and France.

Thant had talked with leaders of the four countries and with North Vietnamese diplomats in New Delhi and Paris. His findings reportedly were not encouraging.

Johnson gave red-carpet treatment to his U.N. visitor, who said their one-hour talk had been useful.

Afterwards, Thant lunched with Secretary Dean Rusk and other high U.S. officials at the State Department before flying back to New York.

A White House statement said Johnson had reaffirmed to Thant "our continuing desire to achieve a peaceful settlement and the continued validity of the San Antonio formula."

The basic U.S. peace talks offer voiced by the President in San Antonio, Tex., speech last September is to stop bombing North Vietnam provided Hanoi promptly enters into productive negotiations and does not take military advantage of the bombing halt.

Hanoi has continued to call for an unconditional end to the U.S. air attacks.

Hardy a Virginia Democrat, said his subcommittee feels that the United States must cut off the enemy's supply routes into South Vietnam and:

"If necessary to achieve this end, all routes, whether by land, sea or air, should be closed or destroyed."

Duff Happy Montreal Is Rolling

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer

Montreal's cannonball express is rolling non-stop again and Dick Duff, for one, is happy to be aboard.

Duff, the slick-skating National Hockey League veteran who had trouble getting into the Canadiens' line-up earlier this season, kept pace with his torrid teammates Wednesday night by scoring two goals in a 7-2 triumph over the New York Rangers.

Claude Provost, Duff's hard-working linemate, also tallied twice as the Canadiens zipped to their seventh straight victory and 19th in their last 20 games. A capacity crowd of 17,250 in new Madison Square Garden saw them average a 3-0 loss to the Rangers at the old Garden on Feb. 4—their lone setback in 25 starts since last Christmas night.

During the red-hot streak, which has carried Montreal from last to first place in the NHL's East Division, Duff has drilled 18 of his 22 goals, including five in the last two games.

The loss ended an eight-game unbeaten streak for the third-place Rangers, but they lost little ground in the East Division playoff scramble. Second-place Chicago nipped Oakland 1-0 on Bobby Hull's 41st goal to go four points up on New York and remain six behind the Canadiens. But fourth-place Boston and fifth-place Toronto each bowed to an expansion club.

Minnesota trimmed Boston 5-3, ex-Bruin Wayne Connelly scoring two goals, and St. Louis pounded slumping Toronto 5-1. Philadelphia battled Pittsburgh to a 1-1 tie in the other games.

Name-Calling Apparently Brainstorm

By FRANK CORMIER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sometimes it seems the White House must have a special staff in charge of dreaming up names for federal programs: Head Start, Upward Bound, Operation Mainstream and all the others.

But no such staff exists. The whole name-calling procedure is a very informal one, though it sometimes resembles an organized exercise in "group think" or "brainstorming."

Take the christening of the National Alliance of Businessmen, the group President Johnson created to give private enterprise a role in training and finding jobs for the hard-core unemployed.

When White House aides were preparing Johnson's recent message to Congress on jobs, they kicked around all kinds of ideas for naming the business organization. Their final choice was determined by the fact that National Alliance of Businessmen can be alphabetized as NAB—an apt description, they thought, for a program to actively seek out job-training candidates and propel them into the labor force.

"We try to find something uplifting that gives the essence of the program," explains Larry Levinson, a White House assistant who has participated in many a bureaucratic christening. The thing to avoid, he says, is dull, formal verbiage.

Occasionally a program name is suggested by the department principally responsible for its evolution. More often, members of the White House staff sit around in a small group and start thinking out loud. Eventually someone produces an idea that wins acceptance.

Thus New Careers, Stay in School and Operation Mainstream.

Acronyms are ever popular. Last year when a presidential commission on the draft suggested a Selective Service lottery, a conscious effort was made to come up with a name tag that would play down the gambling connotation and help sell the idea.

Result: The Fair system, for Fair and Impartial Random System.

But even that wasn't enough to persuade a reluctant Congress.

Some other examples: Job Opportunities in the Business Sector, JOBS and Cooperative Area Manpower Planning System, CAMPS. In these cases, the abbreviations seem almost essential in view of the mouthful of words required to recite the formal titles.

by military leaders, Hardy said the panel "would like the civilians in the Defense Department to pay more attention to the advice from the military."

on the schedule.

Duff scored on a rebound early in the second period and then skipped a long, soft shot through goalie Ed Giacomin's pads later in the middle session. Provost broke a 1-1 tie in the opening period and scored again in the Canadiens' three-goal third period.

Ted Harris, Bobby Rousseau and John Ferguson were the other Montreal scorers.

Hull cracked a scoreless deadlock with just 2:50 remaining at Oakland and Chicago goalie Dave Dryden ended the Seals' three-game winning string with a 17-save shutout.

Connolly fired his 24th and 25th goals—lops in the West Division—as the North Stars up-ended Boston and moved within three points of first place Philadelphia. Mike McMahon, Andre Boudrias and Parker MacDonald also tallied for Minnesota, helping goalie Carl Wetzel prevail in his first NHL start.

Jerry Melnyk and Gary Saborin each scored twice, leading St. Louis past the Maple Leafs, who have dropped seven straight games and are winless in their last nine.

Andre Lacroix, making his NHL debut for Philadelphia, scored the tying goal in the second period after Paul Andrea's power play tally had given the Penguins a 1-0 first period edge. Goalties Les Binkley of Pittsburgh and Doug Favell of the Flyers held firm the rest of the way.

Grid Owners to Recognize New Union

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League and the NFL Players' Association have taken the first formal step toward recognition of the independent union as a bargaining agent for collective bargaining in mid-March.

After a meeting between labor counsels for the two groups, two NFL owners and three player representatives, it was announced Wednesday that the association would be recognized pending a check of its membership by the independent American Arbitration Association.

Both Ted Kheel, legal consultant to the owners, and Dan Shulman, labor counsel for the players, were optimistic about the possibility of an agreement once the bargaining starts.

Kheel emphasized that the owners did not doubt the authenticity of the membership but merely wanted a formal check. Shulman said his group could have tried different means of gaining recognition but chose a formal check because "we have the cards from the players. We know we have a majority."

Shulman said the association has 685 members who pay $100 a year in membership fees. Time after time he reiterated that the association did not expect to negotiate individual salaries.

This is not the classic union situation," said Shulman, a 31-year-old Chicago labor lawyer. "We are talking about things common to everyone—pension plan, shares of postseason games and, of course, minimum salary."

Although the association said in Miami in January it wanted $15,000 minimum salary, $500 a game for exhibitions and a $5 million annual contribution to the pension fund, Shulman would not be specific at this time.

"We do not want to try our case in the newspapers," said Shulman. "Our first step is to get recognition. Then we will get down to hard bargaining. I do not want to be specific at this time."

When a reporter asked Shulman what would happen if no agreement was reached, he said, "We intend to utilize every means available under the law. However, we anticipate we will be able to reach an agreement."

"I have no doubt that reasonable people can work out their problems," said Kheel.

John Gordy of the Detroit Lions, association president was not present but sent a statement backing up Shulman's announcement. Dave Robinson of Green Bay, Gary Wood of New Orleans and Carl Kammerer of Washington were the only players present at the news conference.

The owners were represented by Art Modell of Cleveland, league president, and Wellington Mara, president of the New York Giants.

Shulman said a vast majority of the players polled favored making the association the bargaining agent. However, there were a few exceptions.

"One player said he wanted no part of any union," said Shulman. "Another asked what we meant by collective bargaining."

Shulman called the agreement "an historic step" as the first such agreement between owners and players in organized sports. The football players are the first to seek status as an independent union.

The American Football League put teeth into its rule against use of video tape or electronic equipment during a game by scouts or coaching staffs. Future violations can bring a five-year suspension for the guilty person and perhaps a $50,000 fine for the team.

There was a rubarb about use of video tape last season when the New York Jets charged the Houston Oilers with such a violation during a late season game with San Diego. Houston denied the charge and Mild Woodard, AFL president, cleared the club after an investigation.

The NFL has a similar rule without any specific penalties

Arnold Shoots 'Monster' With a 9 Under

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — The 18th hole of the Tucson National Golf Club has added whiskers this year, but as Arnold Palmer's nine-over-par 13 on the hole Wednesday can attest, it's still a monster.

Officials of the $100,000 Tucson Open, in an attempt to keep errant tee shots from the water on either side of the narrow hump-backed fairway, have let the grass rough grow to several inches.

But it doesn't help much. Defending champion Arnold Palmer put four tee shots into the right lake, hit his approach shot into a trap guarding the green, pitched and then needed two putts to holeout.

"I can't remember when I had a worse score on a single hole," said Palmer.

except "conduct detrimental to the best interests of football."

Many pro teams use the tape in practice sessions but it cannot be used in regular season or exhibition games. Only a polaroid camera or a telephone can be used during games.

The AFL announced its 1969 All-Star game will be played in Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 19.

NOTICE OF SALE

$210,000 Hempstead County, Arkansas General Obligation Industrial Development Bonds

Pursuant to Order of the County Court of Hempstead County, Arkansas notice is hereby given that Hempstead County will sell to the highest bidder its proposed issue of $210,000 Hempstead County General Obligation Industrial Development Bonds, (called "bonds"), being issued under Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, dated June 1, 1967, bearing interest at the rate of 5 1/2 per cent per annum, payable semiannually on June 1 and December 1 of each year, commencing December 1, 1967 and maturing on June 1 of each year as follows:

YEAR	AMOUNT
1970	6,000
1971	6,000
1972	7,000
1973	7,000
1974	8,000
1975	8,000
1976	10,000
1977	10,000
1978	11,000
1979	12,000
1980	13,000
1981	14,000
1982	15,000
1983	15,000
1984	16,000
1985	17,000
1986	17,000
1987	18,000

The bonds will be general obligations of Hempstead County to the payment of which the County will pledge its full faith, credit and taxing power under Amendment No. 49 to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, including particularly a 1/2 mill special continuing annual tax on the dollar of the assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the County, subject, however to the provisions hereafter set forth pertaining to the suspension of the collection of said tax. The assessed valuation of the taxable real and personal property in the County according to the 1967 assessment, the latest assessment of record is $16,175,855.

The proceeds of the bonds will be used, together with available funds, for acquiring land and constructing and equipping a manufacturing building (called "Project"), to be leased to and operated by Hope Wire Products, Incorporated, (called "Hope Wire"). Hope Wire presently conducts manufacturing operations in Hempstead County which have developed to the point that enlarged industrial operations are necessary. The Project will be leased to Hope Wire and the lease rentals and any other revenues derived from the Project may be applied to the payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds. In this regard, provision will be made by the County in the Order authorizing the issuance of the bonds for the suspension of the collection of the special tax as long as there is no default by the Lessee under the Lease Agreement. The conditions in the Authorizing Order will be such that there will be no partial suspension so that there will be available for the payment of the principal of and interest on bonds either the entire proceeds of the tax or the lease rentals under the Lease Agreement.

The purchaser may name the bank of payment and shall have the right to convert the bonds to an issue bearing a lower rate or rates of interest with any conversion to be in accordance with the Universal Bond Values Tables and upon such terms that the County receive no less and pay no more than it would receive and pay if the bonds were not converted. Any conversion will be subject to the approval of the bank of payment and the County Court. The expenses of the issue, including the printing and trusteeing of the bonds and the fee of Smith, Williams, Friday & Bowen, Bond Counsel, of Little Rock, Arkansas, upon whose approving opinion the bonds will be issued, will be paid by the County.

The bonds will be callable for payment prior to maturity in inverse numerical order at par and accrued interest as follows: from surplus tax collections and surplus lease rentals on any interest payment date; from funds from any source on any interest payment date on and after June 1, 1971. The County will covenant that surplus tax collections and surplus lease rentals, being the amount in excess of that necessary to insure the prompt payment of the principal of and interest on the bonds as the same become due, must be used from time to time on each interest payment date for the redemption of bonds prior to maturity.

No bid of less than par and accrued interest on the basis of an interest rate of 5 1/2 per cent annum will be entertained and no contingent provisions may be inserted in any bid. The award, if made, will be to the bidder whose bid results in the lowest net interest cost to the County, to be determined by computing the aggregate interest cost to the County from the date of the bonds to maturity and deducting therefrom any premium bid. The County reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The bonds will be sold upon auction bids, the sale to be held at 2:30 o'clock p.m., on the 14 day of March, 1968, at the office of the County Judge of Hempstead County Courthouse, Hope, Arkansas. Each bidder will be required to deposit a certified or cashier's check in the amount of $4,200 on a bank that is a member of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, payable to the County, to be retained as liquidated damages in the event the bidder is awarded the sale of the bonds but fails to complete the purchase. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned. Interest will not be paid on good faith checks.

For further information address Stephens, Inc., Little Rock, Arkansas, the County's Fiscal Agent, or the undersigned.

GIVEN this 13 day of February, 1968.

Taping Can Be a Family Affair

By JOAN CROSBY

NEA Entertainment Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The record business in the United States is a better than $7-million-a-year industry.

By 1970, expectations are the volume will exceed $1.5 billion.

The excess is due to the tape cartridge business.

Experimentation with the idea of a continuous loop cartridge was begun in 1949 by George Eash. He envisioned his device as an automobile player. But by 1957, when there was no interest from automobile manufacturers, he turned his attention to home use. The first successful cartridge was the Fidelipac four-track cartridge. Earl Muntz, in 1962, marketed the first stereo set for cars.

But the market didn't open up until 1965 when Bill Lear and RCA Victor joined forces with the Ford Motor Company to place stereo cartridge players in 1966 model Fords. The refinement developed by Lear and RCA was an eight-track system.

Today RCA has over 400 eight-track cartridges on the market, with a range from Belafonte to Bernstein. The American Tape Cartridge Association has estimated that there are now nearly two million four-track units in consumer hands and nearly one million eight-track units.

Tape recorders, the reel-to-reel kind on which you can make records as well as play prerecorded tapes, have, in 20 years, become commonplace in homes as television sets and radios.

General Electric, in order to see how many home uses could be found for a tape recorder, gave one to a family with six children. In one week they came up with the following: A 13-year-old boy spent 15 minutes putting vocabulary on tape, which was played over and over to his parakeet, who learned a few more words; the 8-year-old recorded his birthday party; the 10-year-old recorded his piano lessons; the college girl put her lecture for her college French class on tape to perfect it; the 5- and 7-year-olds taped a letter to their grandmother; father used it for business dictation and mother taped instructions to the oldest son for his baby-sitting duty. The recorder cost under $25.

Videotape recorders, pioneered in 1956 by Ampex, are only in the homes of wealthy gadget-happy people. And they will probably continue exactly there for the next few years, even though Ampex now has a home system on the market for under $1,000.

It's in nonhome use where the video tape recorder is most practical today. A ski school in Sun Valley uses one to show ski students what they are doing wrong. A ballet school in California and a bowling alley in Albany also have videotape recorders as a service to students and customers. A police department in California uses a videotape recorder to tape the interrogation of suspects. A research firm records the reactions of test subjects.

The effect of all this equipment is far-reaching on social, economic and educational levels. It will mean that entertainment in the home is so complete that the concept of theater-going as we know it today could change totally. It all seems remarkable. What is even more remarkable is that a device that might, at this moment, be perking in someone's mind, could make all this equipment obsolete.

Hope Girls Get Past Beebe 57-22

By RALPH ROUNTON
Star Sports Writer

Starting a new win streak with the greatest ease, the Hope Lady Cats roared into the quarterfinals of the State Class A tournament by smacking Beebe 57-22 last night in Prescott.

It was easily the most one-sided win of the first day in the competition, in which eight games were played. Now the Lady Cats move opposite Leslie in the quarters tonight at 8:20 p.m. Hope will be sporting a 23-6 mark, while Leslie is 14-7 on the year.

Never trailing from the word "go", the Lady Cats worked the ball underneath early, and jumped to a 9-2 lead in 2½ minutes. The girls cooled down a bit after that, and a couple of outside shots brought the lead down to 15-7 at the quarter.

In the second period the Hope guards were continuing to analyze their opponents, who nevertheless marked up 11 points in the period. But the Lady Cats scored 16 on their end, working into a 31-18 lead at the half.

At this point Beebe was still in the ball game, but not for long. After 90 seconds of the third segment Hope had a 35-20 lead, with Beebe's points coming on free shots.

About this time the guards on the Hope side decided what they what they had been doing wrong, and corrected it quickly. An invisible board was placed on the Beebe basket, which didn't allow a shot to go through. Meanwhile the Lady Cats wound up the quarter with 12 points and a 47-20 lead.

The spree continued on until 1:10 was left in the game, when Hope had gone 20-0 over 11 minutes of play. Still, Beebe did not sink a single field goal in the second half entirely, only scoring on four free throws.

All three starting Lady Cat guards, Nellie Churchill, Kay Coleman, Donna Byers, played letter-perfect games, with good assistance given by reserves Jenny Callicott, Vickie Reeves, and Junanne Reynolds.

14-Year-Old Still Talk of Tourney

WINCHESTER, Mass. (AP) — A 14-year-old school girl who overpowered the nation's third-ranked player for a while before finally losing out was still the talk of the gallery today as the U.S. Women's Indoor Tennis Tournament moved into its second day.

Andrea Volkos of Pawtucket, R.I., put on an extraordinary display as she stunned Mary Ann Eisel of St. Louis, 8-6, in the first set of their match Wednesday night. The youngster couldn't keep it up, however, as Miss Eisel rallied to win the next two sets, 6-2, 6-0.

Long Island Still Rated the Best

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The McNeese State Cowboys of Lake Charles, La., riding high on a 20-2 record, moved into third place in The Associated Press' small-College basketball poll today.

Unbeaten Long Island University, a solid leader, and Kentucky Wesleyan, the runner-up, have the same positions they held a week ago. There were considerable changes, though, in the other ranking spots.

McNeese State rushed up from fifth place, Pan American advanced from eighth to fourth, Trinity, Tex., climbed from sixth to fifth, Evansville slipped three notches to sixth. Norfolk State went from ninth to seventh while Southwestern Louisiana fell one place to eighth.

Illinois State, the only new team in The Top Ten, took over the No. 9 slot, and Guilford held 10th.

LIU received eight first-place votes and 145 points in the latest balloting by a national panel of 16 sports writers and broadcasters based on games through last Saturday. Kentucky Wesleyan drew three votes for the top position and 113 points while McNeese State had one first-place vote and 93 points.

The Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses and total points through games of Feb. 17:

1. Long Island U. (8)	145
2. Kentucky Wesleyan (3)	113
3. McNeese State (1)	93

Pirates Glad to Sign Star Hurling Staff

The Pittsburgh Pirates breathed a sigh of relief today with the anchors of their pitching staff—Bob Veale and Jim Bunning—under contract, but the New York Yankees are holding their breath with Al Downing still unsigned.

Veale and Bunning signed their baseball pacts Wednesday just before they would have become holdouts as pitchers and catchers opened camp at Fort Myers, Fla.

Reliever Dooley Womack ended a brief holdout for the Yankees and outfielders Steve Whitaker and Roy White also came to terms, but Downing is a holdout with the pitchers and catchers already in camp.

Other batterymen also signed contracts Wednesday—catchers Don Pavletich of Cincinnati and Bob Barton of San Francisco and pitchers Tom Phoebus, the 1967 Rookie of the Year from Baltimore, and Dick Lines of Washington. Another catcher, Jim Coker, 31, advised Cincinnati he was retiring to ranching. He had a .231 major league average.

The Giants also signed catcher Jack Hight, infielder Bob Schroeder and pitcher Bob Reynolds, who is in military service.

Spring Camps on Verge of Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Most major league baseball spring training camps are just on the verge of opening, but a lot of rookies have already received some good news. Three thousand dollars worth of good news.

One of the most important provisions of an agreement between club owners and the players' association that was announced Wednesday was the raising of the minimum major-league salary from $7,000 a year to $10,000.

In addition, the players won some other monetary concessions including an increase in meal allowances, spring training expenses and a lessening of the amount salaries may be reduced from one season to the next.

Top non-economic concessions included studies of possible alternatives to the reserve clause and of the length of the season, both to be completed next year.

The agreement was announced by John J. Caherin, advisor to the owners' player relations committee. Negotiations for the owners were carried on by Joe Cronin, president of the American League; Warren Giles, president of the National League; Caherin and other lawyers.

Representing the players were Marvin J. Miller, executive director of the players' association; Richard M. Moss, counsel; and player representatives of 12 major-league clubs.

The agreement is for two years and was made effective as of last Jan. 1.

Meal and tip allowances for players when their teams are on the road were increased from $12 to $15 a day. Spring training meal allowances for players living away from club headquarters went up from $8 to $12 a day. Miscellaneous spring training allowances went up from $25 a week to $40.

Salaries may only be reduced 20 per cent from the previous season rather than 25 per cent as in the past. Moving expenses for players called up from the minors will be paid and provisions for first-class travel and hotel facilities were agreed upon.

mer camps was formalized. The study of alternatives to the reserve clause, the one under which players are traded, will be completed by December 31, 1969, while the study of the length of the season is to be finished before next season's schedule is drawn up.

The Bulls took 31 shots from the foul line in their 108-106 squeaker over Seattle in the National Basketball Association Wednesday night. They made 30 of them including 14 straight by Bob Boozer who led the scorers with 26 points.

Washington, second to Boozer with 23 points, was seven for eight from the line; his miss was the Bulls' only one.

In other NBA games, Baltimore beat San Francisco 126-117 and Los Angeles turned back Boston 122-117.

In the American Basketball Association, Dallas edged Houston 122-119 and Indiana beat Denver 123-110.

Bob Rule's basket for the SuperSonics tied the score at 106-106 with 52 seconds left, but Clem Haskins hit on a one-handed from the foul line with eight seconds left for the Bulls' victory.

The Bulls got 54 points out of their backcourt combination of Earl Monroe and Kelvin Loughery. Monroe collected 25 points and Loughery had 25. Jeff Mullins scored 29 points for the Warriors.

Elgin Baylor came through in the clutch with 28 seconds remaining in the Lakers' victory over the Celtics before a turnout of 17,011, the biggest crowd ever to see an NBA game on the West Coast.

With Los Angeles leading by one point, Baylor connected on a 13-foot jump shot and then converted a pair of free throws. Boston had trimmed a 12-point Laker lead early in the fourth period on the shooting of Bill Russell and John Havlicek.

Russell topped the Celts with 24 points and Havlicek chipped in with 20. Jerry West was high for Los Angeles with 34 and Baylor contributed 32.

Didn't Dream He Would Set a Record

By BEN THOMAS
Associated Press Sports Writer

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — Basketball Coach Press Maravich says he thought before the season began that his talented son, Pistol Pete, "would average 20-25 points a game" and would be the playmaker for the Louisiana State team.

Neither dreamed that the frail-looking youngster would become the first sophomore to score 1,000 points in a season.

With 8:31 to go in the first half Wednesday night in the game with traditional rival Tulane, Pete scored on a layup. It was his 16th point of the night and gave him 1,000 for 23 games.

Only Frank Selvy of Furman, Oscar Robertson of Cincinnati and Billy McGill of Utah have collected 1,000 or more in one season and they were seniors at the time.

Pete didn't stop at 1,000. He wound up the night with 55 as the Tigers downed Tulane 99-92. It pushed his total to 1,039—and he has three games yet to play.

"He's the greatest outside shooter in the country," said Tulane's acting coach, Tom Nissalke. "And he's a magician on the floor, too."

Maravich now is second among the all-time single season scorers. Selvy canned 1,209 points in 1954, playing in 29 games—three more than Pete will play. Robertson had 1,011 in 30 games in 1960 while McGill had 1,009 in 26 games two seasons later.

Pete also is a wizard at ball-handling, passing, blocking and stealing. His 88 assists so far this season set a Southeastern Conference record.

His detractors claim that he

Rayl Shoots Way Back Into Lineup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Jim Rayl shot his way back into Indiana's starting line-up, but the celebration he held after he got there received better results.

Rayl, out of the starting lineup for a month, came off the bench Monday night and scored 30 points, not enough to keep the Pacers from losing to Kentucky.

But Wednesday, as a starter, he pumped in 33 markers, his pro high, and played a sharp floor game that carried the Pacers to a 123-110 victory over Denver at Indianapolis.

In the other scheduled American Basketball Association game, Dallas fought off Houston for a 122-119 road victory.

In the National Basketball Association, Chicago tripped Seattle 108-106, Baltimore toppled San Francisco 126-117 and Los Angeles whipped Boston 122-117.

Rayl got plenty of help from Bob Netolicky and Fred Lewis, who scored 26 and 21 points respectively as Indiana built a 60-47 halftime spread. The Rockets never got closer than nine in the last half.

Grant Simmons and Larry Jones each had 23 points for Denver, which dropped five games back of New Orleans and 1½ behind Dallas in the Western Division.

The Pacers climbed within a half-game of third place in the East.

Dallas picked up a half game on idle New Orleans as Cincy-Powell scored 12 points in the fourth quarter and finished with 29. Houston pulled even twice in the period, but Powell's layup and two free throws by Cliff Hagen kept the Chaparrals ahead.

Hagen totaled 24 points and John Beasley 28. Willie Somers set had 37 and Wilbert Frazier 27 for Houston.

fires too frequently, dubbing him Peter Gunn. His field goal percentage is .420.

For Helena 'No'; But for LRU, Little Rock, 'Yes'

Just before adjournment this week the special session of the Arkansas General Assembly adopted a resolution authorizing a study of the proposal to merge the University of Arkansas and Little Rock University.

The resolution was passed with some difficulty, and its final draft was not as emphatic as the Pulaski delegation had wished—but all this is minor compared to the uproar which will be heard when the actual consolidation is debated.

The LRU issue is simply this: Whether the taxpayers of all Arkansas are going to assume the liabilities and maintenance of a local private school project dreamed up by and for Little Rock, or whether Little Rock people will be required to provide their own local support for something they themselves started.

We had an identical case last year when the people of the Helena area sought to unload their Mississippi River bridge improvement district bonds on the state's taxpayers—and were abruptly told to continue the bridge tolls and pay their own way.

Little Rock was wholly virtuous on the Helena bridge question, denouncing it as a "local grab."

But LRU, according to Little Rock, isn't a "local grab" at all—it's for the glory and benefit of all Arkansas.

Which is pure nonsense, of course. Little Rock promoted and financed LRU and it should either see the project through, or cut it back to a local junior college—or, if finances are as critical as they seem to be, then abolish it.

The taxpayers of Arkansas have burden enough paying for projects of their own choosing—without underwriting local projects on which they weren't consulted, such as the Helena bridge and LRU.

Finally, you should consider the full implication of the AULRU merger proposal. We have given Arkansas State College at Jonesboro a new status as Arkansas State University—but not the money to support it as a full-fledged university.

Therefore, if we pick up Little Rock's bill for LRU it is obvious we shall have to do something costly in behalf of Jonesboro also—meaning that instead of bearing the burden of just one university we will saddle ourselves with the cost of three.

Former U.S. Senator Dies at 74

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. (AP) — Former Sen. Scott W. Lucas, 74, of Illinois, died early today in Rocky Mount's Park View Hospital after suffering a cerebral hemorrhage.

Lucas was rushed to the hospital from a Florida bound train and was admitted at 10:40 p.m. Wednesday night. Dr. Rufus Ratchford of the hospital staff said he died at 5:50 a.m.

Lucas was Democratic majority leader in the Senate when he was unseated by Republican Everett Dirksen in 1950.

MOUNTAINBURG, Ark. (AP) — The Water Pollution Control Administration has approved a grant of $7,890 to help finance construction of water pollution control facilities here.

Marianna Killed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon said Wednesday that Army Cpl. James L. Brown Jr., of Marianna died of wounds received in the Vietnam war. Brown was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown Sr. of Marianna.

Acquitted of Murder Charge

EL DORADO, Ark. (AP) — A Circuit Court jury found Russell Pendleton, 20, of El Dorado innocent of first-degree murder Wednesday.

Pendleton was charged in the shooting death of Tandy Breed of El Dorado last July 4.

McClellan to Dedicate Water Dist.

U. S. Senator John McClellan will dedicate the Southwest Arkansas Water Distribution System on March 29 to the economic growth of this developing four-state territory.

The national and regional directors for economic development of the U.S. Department of Commerce will take part with Senator McClellan in the colorful dedicatory ceremonies at Ashdown, Arkansas. They are Ross Davis of Washington, D.C., assistant Commerce secretary, and R. R. Morrison of Austin, Texas, 11-state area chief of the U. S. Economic Development Administration.

The announcement that these high-ranking figures had accepted invitations to participate was made late Wednesday by George Peck, president of the Southwest Arkansas Water District Board.

The water board is sponsoring the ceremonies which will fill an afternoon and evening with significant events.

Mr. Peck named a Special Arrangements Committee composed of E. C. Cobb of Ashdown, chairman, and Marion Crank of Foreman, and Leon Kuhn of Texarkana, Arkansas.

The main program will be held in the Ashdown High School Auditorium Friday evening, March 29, Mr. Peck said. The Auditorium doors will be opened to the public at 6:00 p.m. The Ashdown High School Band will begin a concert at 6:15 p.m., and the program headlining Senator McClellan as principal speaker will start at 6:45 p.m. sharp.

During the afternoon, the first flow of water from the Southwest Arkansas Water Distribution System will be turned onto the new $46-million Nekoosa-Edwards Paper Company's Ashdown Mill, signalling the addition of another major business and source of new employment to this area's industrial expansion.

The water facility, located between Texarkana and Ashdown, will be ready for its initial transmission by March 29, Mr. Peck said.

He added that complete program features now being developed will be announced as soon as possible.

Cooperating with the Southwest Arkansas Water District in arrangements and participation are the Chambers of Commerce, cities and county officials of the five counties—Miller, Little River, Hempstead, Lafayette and Columbia—which make up the water district.

George Washington Is Not Exactly a Pinup Hero to Teenagers

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — On the 236th anniversary of his birth, George Washington is hardly a popular teen-age pinup hero.

First called "the father of his country" during the American Revolution, his fate — like that of many of today's modern fathers — is to be somewhat misunderstood and taken for granted by his children.

The youth of our land have been a bit mistrustful of Washington ever since 1800, when Parson Mason L. Weems, in writing a life story of our first president, invented the famous cherry tree tale.

"I can't tell a lie, Pa," he quoted young George as saying. "You know I can't tell a lie. I did cut it with my little hatchet."

That fable has probably hurt the influence of George Washington upon youth more than anything he ever actually did or didn't do in his remarkable life. To every kid since then it has made him appear as a prissy, sanctimonious prig.

He wasn't that lay at all, of course. By rights he should be one of the greatest on teen-age heroes and a model for them to emulate. For he had his troubles as a teen-ager, too.

Acne is a source of acute embarrassment to sensitive adolescents. George didn't have that, so far as we know. But his features were disfigured by a scar on his left cheek, a black mole

Interstate Road to Open

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Highway Department said in a report Wednesday that it expects to open Interstate 40 from Little Rock to the Mississippi River by the end of the year.

The report also said additional section of Interstate 30 between Malvern and Prescott also will be opened.

Through 1967, 324.8 miles of interstate system was open in Arkansas, the report said. Another 139.9 miles were under construction and the remaining 54.1 miles were in various stages of planning, design or right-of-way acquisition.

Plaswood Closes Plant Temporarily

Southern Plaswood Corp., manufacturers of particle board, has closed down temporarily, it was announced officially today by John M. Crafton, manager of the plant.

The decision to close down was due to a combination of things. The primary cause was the lack of materials for production. This was brought about by the railway strike as a great portion of raw materials for the plant are shipped in by rail, Mr. Crafton said.

He gave no indication when the plant might be re-opened.

At the time of the shutdown the factory employed around 100 workers.

Jury Has All Maps, Says Head of CID

STAR CITY, Ark. (AP) — Maj. W. C. Struening, head of the State Police Criminal Investigation Division, said Wednesday that the Lincoln County Grand Jury has all the pertinent maps of the area where three human skeletons were dug up at Cummins Prison Farm Jan. 29.

This conflicts with a statement by Prosecutor Joe Holmes of Pine Bluff, who said Tuesday night that the maps examined so far by the jury "were not the right ones."

Holmes told the Associated Press Tuesday night that Lt. Howard Chandler of the State Police would present a map showing an old cemetery to the grand jury Monday.

However, Holmes said Wednesday that the jury had all the pertinent maps and said he had been quoted incorrectly by The Associated Press.

Hijacked Plane With 109 Aboard Allowed to Return From Cuba

MIAMI Fla. (AP) — A gunman wearing a white cowboy hat and tennis shoes pushed a stewardess into the cockpit of a DC8 jet over Florida Wednesday and held a pistol under her ear until the pilot dethroned his craft and 109 persons to a landing in Cuba.

About five hours after the hijacking, Delta Air Line Flight 843 returned to Miami, leaving behind in Havana a young man who gave his name to the airline as "S. Wilson."

The man boarded the Chicago-Miami flight with 64 other persons at Tampa. Other passengers said he had been drinking heavily at the airport bar.

Delta officials said he bought a $21 first class ticket at 12:44 p.m. Wednesday in the airline's downtown Tampa ticket office. It was a one-way ticket to Miami.

"He told us he didn't care who he killed or how badly he shot up the plane," said Joy Bleil, 28, of Elmwood Park, Ill. Mrs. Bleil, the senior stewardess, was held in the cockpit, $8 million airliner was escorted into Cuba by four MIG fighters and touched down at Jose Marti airport.

"He said he was facing a death sentence for the hijacking anyway," said the pert brunette in a news conference by the crew at Miami International Airport.

Liberals Win Round But Hurt Chances for a Civil Rights Bill

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate liberals who staved off an attempt to ditch open housing legislation may have buried at the same time chances of pushing any civil rights bill through Congress this session.

By a 58-34 vote, the Senate refused Wednesday to table and thus kill a proposal to prohibit discrimination in the sale or rental of virtually all housing.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield called the vote a futile move that could doom President Johnson's basic civil rights proposal.

The next crucial step will be a second vote Monday on whether to cut off the five-week civil rights debate that has stalemated the Senate since Congress reconvened in mid-January.

To invoke the Senate's de-late-limiting cloture rule and bring the legislation to a vote would take a two-thirds majority of senators voting.

An attempt Tuesday to invoke cloture fell seven votes short. The count was 55 to 37.

Mansfield said if the new cloture move fails Monday, that will be the end. "Twice is enough," he told newsmen. "We will have exhausted every effort."

But he later modified that by saying there would be no third attempt "unless unusual circumstances arise that I cannot foresee at this time."

The open-housing measure has been offered as an amendment to an administration bill designed to provide Negroes and civil rights workers with federal protection against racial violence.

So far Southern opponents and conservative Republicans allied with GOP Leader Everett M. Dirksen have blocked all efforts to bring the legislation to a vote.

After defeat of the motion to table the open-housing amendment, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., floor manager of the bill, appealed anew for a chance for the Senate to work its will.

"All the parliamentarians laid out to end won't be able to explain to Americans why a majority of senators cannot do what they want to do," Hart told newsmen.

But neither he nor anyone else claimed a two-thirds majority could be obtained Monday to put an end to the debate.

Mansfield moved to table the administration's open-housing measure after saying that to pursue it further would "destroy the chance the Congress has for making any progress in the field of civil rights during this session."

Candidate for Governor

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Odus Wilson, 40, an unemployed North Little Rock carpenter, said Wednesday he plans to seek the Democratic nomination for governor this year.

A native of Dumas, Wilson said he would have no trouble getting the $1,500 filing fee, saying churches would be his biggest contributors toward campaign expenses.

Wilson, saying he is the only man in the state who can defeat Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, has been married three times and has six children.

Hanoi Radio Station Is Bombed

By GEORGE ESPER

Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — U.S. planes for the first time in the war attacked the Hanoi radio station that beams out all Communist propaganda from North Vietnam, the U.S. Command announced today. But monitors said Radio Hanoi was still on the air.

The strike Wednesday against the station, which military spokesmen said has the most powerful transmitter in Southeast Asia, coincided with these other developments indicating a sharp escalation in both the ground and air wars:

— Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs attacked another target for the first time, a sprawling nist hokdost. The Marines southwest of Hanoi.

— The number of Americans killed in combat jumped to a record high for the war last week, 543, and there were 2,547 wounded, 210 less than the record. It was a week of hard fighting in the Viet Cong's lunar new year offensive against South Vietnam's population centers.

— Official U.S. sources disclosed that a new Communist rocket, designed and manufactured by the Chinese without any foreign help, has been used in the war for the first time.

— The same sources said elements of two Communist divisions are still menacing Saigon, and some enemy forces are poised within six miles of the capital city of nearly three million people. The sources also disclosed that intelligence had detected heavy shipments of Communist arms coming in from Cambodia.

— With U.S. Marine jets bombing in front of them in a priority effort to end the 23-day battle for Hue, Marine infantrymen pushed 150 yards through the fortress Citadel and seized all of their assigned sector of the south wall.

The Marines drove to within about 50 yards of the historic inner palace grounds. There they came under heavy fire from the inner Citadel, once the ornate home of 19th century Vietnamese emperors and now the command post for the Communist military storage area 41 miles raised an American flag on the south wall facing the Perfume River.

U.S. sources also disclosed that the North Vietnamese 324B Division had moved across the demilitarized zone to the area of Quang Tri City, key provincial capital 34 miles north of Hue. About 50,000 Communist troops were reported to be in or just on the fringes of South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces—Quang Tri and Thua Thien.

The attack on the Hanoi radio station apparently was intended as a blow against Communist propaganda claims of great victories.

543 Killed in Week for Record High

SAIGON (AP) — The number of Americans killed in the Vietnam war climbed to an all-time high of 543 last week, and 2,547 were wounded, the U.S. Command reported today.

The toll was for the Feb. 11-17 period, a time of bloody fighting 12 days after the Communists launched their lunar new year offensive. In the week that ended Feb. 3, 416 Americans were reported killed and 2,757 wounded, while the week after the report was 400 Americans killed and 1,494 wounded.

For the second week, the U.S. Command said enemy and South Vietnamese casualty figures were not available.

In a separate report, however, the South Vietnamese command said 2,687 government troops had been killed between the start of the enemy offensive Jan. 30 and 4 p.m. Wednesday Feb. 21, while enemy casualties in that period were 37,515 killed in action and 6,047 captured.

The new report raised U.S. casualties in the Vietnam war to 18,239 killed in action, 112,460 wounded, but the command said 52,641 of the wounded did not require hospitalization. The number of Americans missing or captured now totals 1,242, the command said.

More Snow Tonight, Friday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The U.S. Weather Bureau says Arkansas can expect more snow tonight and Friday and perhaps by late afternoon in western sections of the state.

The Weather Bureau said hazardous driving warnings likely would be necessary over most of the state tonight and Friday.

The Arkansas weather is under the influence of a cold high pressure system with one center this morning over southeast Missouri and another center in southern Canada north of Minnesota.

The system brought cold temperatures to the state this morning. Readings over the state were in the teens and low 20s with a low of 13 recorded at Harrison. Walnut Ridge had a 14.

Almost all sections of the state reported freezing precipitation in one form or another Wednesday. The heaviest snowfall appeared to be in Central and North Arkansas with one to three inches above average.

Machines in Big States Necessary

By CARL P. LEUBSDORF

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

pitism evident these days

round Democratic party headquarters fails to obscure one essential fact: The disrepair of the party machinery in the big states necessary for President

Johnson to be re-elected.

The party coffers are unusually full, the staff has been rebuilt and everyone concerned seems happier now that election year is finally here and the National Committee knows what its job is.

This is to provide a support structure for registration, women's activities and other organizational work necessary for a successful national campaign.

In addition, party leaders report enthusiasm at regional planning conferences, and the organization of Citizens for Johnson-Humphrey groups is ahead of schedule under the direction of Washington lawyer

James H. Rowe Jr., Johnson's

choice to be over-all head of campaign strategy.

But the state of the party in the big states, where Republicans scored smashing victories in 1966 and 1967, remains questionable, with serious new splits threatening in a number of places.

Of the 10 largest states, whose 235 electoral votes are only 14

short of the majority needed for election, Democrats have governors in only 3—New Jersey,

Texas and Illinois.

But in New Jersey, Republicans scored smashing statewide victories last fall; in Texas, the retirement of Gov. John B. Connelly has created a void at the head of Democratic ranks; and in Illinois, Republicans scored significant victories in 1966.

Illinois presents the Democrats—and Johnson in particular—with a unique problem.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, who has strongly supported the President on Vietnam, is seeking a fourth term. Unless Democrats run a strong race against him,

the President could lose the state and its 26 electoral votes.

However, the retirement of

Democratic Gov. Otto Kerner

gives the party a chance to come up with its most star-studded state ticket in a generation

—antipoverty director Sargent

Shriver and State Treasurer Adlai E. Stevenson III, son of the former governor and two-time

Democratic presidential nominee.

The other seven big states present even greater problems for the Democrats, who carried

all of them in their landslide

1964 victory. Consider just these two other 7th Fleet flattops—Ti-

This is the Enterprise's third tour of duty in the Vietnam war.

She had just left Japan on her way from the United States

when North Korea seized the U.S. spy ship on Jan. 23. The carrier, which has 100 planes, was diverted to Korean waters for a show of force which didn't by Capt. Kent L. Lee, 46, a native of Florence County, S.C.

Lee's wife is the former Mary

Edith Buckley, of Piedmont,

In California, the party is reduced to one statewide officeholder, Atty. Gen. Thomas C.

Lynch; is racked by intramural fighting; and must face popular

GOP Sen. Thomas H. Kuchel in November.

In Michigan, Gov. George

Shelters for Aircraft Possibility

By BOB HORTON

AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The

Pentagon, citing huge Egyptian

plane losses in last June's

Arab-Israeli war, is pressing

Congress for permission to build new battle-resistant shelters for U.S. aircraft in Europe.

Congress has balked at the idea the last few years, partly on grounds construction of new fixed installations might keep the U.S. entrenched abroad or might be wasteful in event of pull-outs.

Harold Brown, secretary of the Air Force, made the latest bid for the specially developed shelters Wednesday, pointing out the Middle East war "dramatically demonstrated the vulnerability of exposed aircraft on the ground."

"Hundreds of aircraft, representing about half of the United Arab Republic's jet air force, were destroyed on the ground in the first three hours of attack—

almost wholly by 20 and 30mm

cannon fire," Brown said.

Brown told the Senate Armed Services Committee that East

European countries already have started building protective installations for their planes.

"Our studies and war games show that, in a great many foreseeable situations, aircraft shelters would probably result in the saving of at least one aircraft for every four shelters," he stated.

"In some circumstances, they could save us as many as one aircraft for every shelter."

American fighter-bombers cost about $2 million each. The new Air Force F111As are priced at several million apiece.

Secretary of Defense Robert

S. McNamara asked Congress in late January for $17.4 million to buy 60 shelters at European bases in the fiscal year beginning next July.

Over the next few years, he proposed erecting others to provide wartime protection for 515 aircraft in England, Germany and Spain. The program also would provide additional taxi-ways which would allow planes to be quickly dispersed in case of attack, plus specially protected fuel and communications facilities and alarm systems.

What the Pentagon has in mind are prefabricated metal and earth-mound shelters costing $130,000 to $160,000 each, depending on whether they are equipped with blast resistant steel doors.

MONKEY BUSINESS appears on Hong Kong stamps commemorating the Oriental lunar new year which is the Year of the Monkey, a creature signifying wisdom and industry, two qualities highly prized in the bustling British Crown Colony.

Negro History Long Way From Restoration

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rights and privileges of citizenship that whites have denied the Negro in America may be easier to restore than something else that was taken away—the Negro's history.

The Negro may have moved up from the back of the bus but he has barely even entered the books, libraries and museums that record the nation's history.

A Negro who recently visited the Smithsonian Institution, that vast national cultural storehouse, said he found only one item with which he could identify: "It was a mural of Eli Whitney and the cotton gin. And you know who was picking that cotton."

And a white woman participating in a panel discussion on Negro history and culture in Washington last week confessed she had graduated with honors from an Ivy League college without ever having heard of Frederick Douglass. So, how many have?

Yet Douglass, an escaped slave who became one of the most articulate and effective leaders of the abolition movement both here and in Europe, is only one of many illustrious Negroes whose accomplishments have gone largely unrecognized.

How many school children, for instance, are taught that when Admiral Peary battled his way to the North Pole a Negro friend and associate, Matthew Henson, was with him and may have actually set foot on the pole first?

Or that at Bunker Hill, among those not shooting until he saw the whites of their eyes was Peter Salem, a Negro, who when he did shoot brought down the British commander?

Or that a Haitian-born Negro, Jean DuSable, was one of the first to establish a trading post where Chicago now stands? Or that the machine that revolutionized the shoemaking industry was invented by a Negro.

Efforts are being made to restore the Negro to his rightful role in American history, but they face many obstacles.

"Just as there is tremendous opposition to open housing," said another participant in last week's conference on Negro history, "so is there tremendous opposition to open history."

But bias—and all history is distorted to the extent the writer decides what to put in and what to leave out—is only part of the problem in telling the Negro's story. The documentation on which history rests—the diaries, letters, records, pictures, newspapers—is just not there. "This material is in attics, in basements, in trunks and boxes, stored, forgotten and in danger of rotting away," last week's conference participants were told. "It must be ferreted out and used."

There is a bill before Congress to establish a commission for this purpose. California, Michigan and Connecticut have passed laws calling for the teaching of Negro history in their schools. But many Negroes are reluctant to leave the collecting of their history to the government, and private universities and institutions are already engaged in the task.

In Washington, the Frederick Douglass Institution and the Museum has a wide array of material available to the school children of the District of Columbia. In Detroit, the International Afro-American Institution has a traveling display it takes to the schools. Much of the material in the Detroit collection has been gathered from neighborhood attics.

The Negro, searching for his past, is in a position to help historians find it.

Says America Improving in Hockey Play

NEW YORK (AP) — Tom Lockhart, longtime tireless worker in the field of amateur hockey, thinks there's an answer to improving America's showing in that sport in the Olympics.

Lockhart, president of the Amateur Hockey Association of the United States, announced Tuesday the formation of an eight-team tournament to be sponsored by the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. The tournament will be played March 29-31.

Jack Riley, coach of Army's hockey team who led America to the Olympic gold medal at Squaw Valley, Calif. in 1960, will be chairman of the tourney, which will be known as the Bantam Olympic Ice Hockey Tournament. Lockhart said elimination games will be played in various sections of the country beginning in March.

DOCTOR'S MAILBAG Combination of Drugs May Be More Effective

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—I am taking Rautrax N Modified. Is there any more effective drug for high blood pressure? Does this drug have any bad side effects?

A—Drugs derived from Rauwolfia serpentina are among the best remedies for hypertension. The drug you are taking is one of the safest because the addition of Naturetin makes it possible to get the desired effect with relatively small doses but, as with all powerful drugs, side effects may occur. Any unusual symptoms should be reported to your doctor.

Q—Is it true that a pinch (about 1/2 of a teaspoonful) of Epsom salt taken each day will lower the blood pressure?

A—So small a dose would have little effect, good or bad, on the body. It is not recommended in any dosage to lower the blood pressure.

Q—I am taking Diuril for high blood pressure. Has it any bad side effects? Does it affect the hair?

A—Chlorothiazide (Diuril) is primarily a diuretic. It should not be taken by anyone who has kidney or liver disease. If you have a problem with your hair, some other cause should be sought.

Q—I have a slightly elevated blood pressure and am taking Diupres. Has it any bad side effects?

A—This is a combination of chlorothiazide and reserpine which is said to be more effective than either drug alone. In the recommended dosage, it should not cause any side effects.

Q—I have high blood pressure and am taking Mebaral which keeps my pressure around 180/90. I also take Placidyl to help me sleep. Is it harmful to take these drugs continually?

A—Mebaral is a barbiturate. Both drugs are habit-forming.

Q—I have high blood pressure and am taking Aldoril. Will it bring my blood pressure down? Could high blood pressure affect my equilibrium?

A—This combination of methyldopa and hydrochlorothiazide is an effective remedy for hypertension. A sudden rise or fall in your blood pressure may cause a transient loss of equilibrium. More persistent loss of balance is usually due to some disease of the inner ear, often associated with hardening of the arteries.

Q—I have high blood pressure and am taking Aldomet. Will it help me? What are its side effects?

A—Methyldopa (Aldomet) is

Delicious Divinity Candy Tops Off New Cookie Treat

No one is more delighted than a child to find his food fixed in an imaginative new way.
Next time you prepare a lunchbox or are planning a youngster's party, why not whip up some old-fashioned divinity candy to glorify those ever-popular creme-filled chocolate wafers. You simply beat a heated syrup mixture into an egg white, and top your cookies with the fluff mixed with chopped nuts.
Be sure to put enough of these special cookies in the lunchbox for school friends, too. Half your child's fun will be in showing what a good cook you are.
Follow these simple directions:

- Divinity Candy Cookies
- 1 cup sugar
 - 1/2 cup water
 - 1/4 cup light corn syrup
 - 1 egg white
 - Pinch salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/2 cup coarsely chopped pecans or walnuts
 - 20 to 24 Hydrox cookies

Place sugar, water and syrup in saucepan over moderate heat; stir until dissolved. Scrape any grains of sugar on sides of pan down into mixture with rubber spatula. Cook mixture over moderate heat, without stirring, to 285° F. on candy thermometer or until the mixture forms a ball in cold water (drop a bit of syrup in cool water; the syrup is ready when a soft ball forms). Meanwhile beat egg white with salt until mixture holds stiff peaks. Pour syrup little by little over the egg white, beating all the while with an electric mixer or egg beater. (Keep syrup over very low heat until it is used up.) When all syrup is beaten in, add vanilla. With large spoon, beat in nuts and continue to beat until mixture stands up well and loses its shiny appearance. Drop by heaping teaspoons into Hydrox cookies. When completely cool store in airtight container.
Yield: 20 to 24 pieces.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

VALUE of a two-story house is more square feet of habitable area per dollar spent. In Plan HA536Y, a center hall keeps traffic between active areas to a minimum. The sunken family room permits access to the rear play area through large glass doors. A lavatory and laundry equipment are located nearby. The kitchen has space for a dinette set for less formal meals. The second floor contains four large bedrooms. A five-foot-wide linen closet is provided in addition to abundant bedroom closets. Outside, the garage looks like part of the house. Architect Herman York, 90-04 161 St., Jamaica, N.Y., 11432, designed 968 square feet on the first floor and 1,024 feet on the second floor.

French Ride on Air

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent

PARIS — (NEA) — Passengers aboard the French aerotrain, the world's fastest train, fasten their seat belts just as though they were about to take off in a plane.

The train driver, who is called the pilot, wears an astronaut's helmet instead of the regulation locomotive engineer's peaked cap. And just to make matters more confusing, the train has no wheels.

And yet, after riding in it, I am convinced that the aerotrain, which holds the world's speed record at 212 miles per hour, is the transportation of the future. This wheelless vehicle, which is still in the experimental stages, works on the hovercraft principle by gliding along on a cushion of air.

Engineers have not yet been able to eliminate the aerotrain's noise, which is equivalent to that of a jet plane at take-off, but it rides remarkably smoothly, with very little jolting or vibration.

The aerotrain rides on its air cushion one-tenth of an inch above a concrete track which, in cross-section, looks like an inverted T.

The full-scale model will carry 84 passengers at speeds up to 250 m.p.h., and the French hope to have it in operation between Paris and Orleans, a distance of 70 miles, by the early 1970s.

Moreover, the French appear to have at least a two-year lead over the rest of the world in the development of such a vehicle. The British, in particular, have been caught napping, as the hovercraft is basically a British invention. In their eagerness to exploit the hovercraft's marine aspects, the British sponsors evidently overlooked some of its land applications, and it is only now that they are beginning to work on a hovertrain, which will use a linear induction engine.

Meanwhile, the aerotrain has become very much a prestige project, with President de Gaulle's government pouring money into it. In their efforts to establish superiority in this field, the government has even discovered that a Frenchman, Louis Girard, was experimenting with trains that rode on a film of air or water as far back as 1860.

The aerotrain is the brain child of Jean Bertin, a brilliant engineer and designer, who did much of the preliminary work on the Concorde, the supersonic airliner which the French are developing in conjunction with the British.

Bertin's first workshop was a dingy room in the Rue Des Patures in Paris reached by climbing rickety wooden stairs. Today, he has his own laboratories outside Paris which employ 600 engineers and research scientists. The aerotrain is only a small part of their work, which includes projects in the fields of space physics, electronics and aerodynamics.

The aerotrain's trial runs have taken place on a disused railway siding at Gometz, 25 miles south of Paris, where four miles of concrete track have been constructed. Here the sleek aluminum vehicle attained a speed of 128 m.p.h. at its first trial run in March, 1966. By adding rockets to the 280-h.p. American engine which gave the aerotrain its propulsion, its speed was boosted to 180 m.p.h. in December, 1966, and to the 212-m.p.h. record a year later.

The French already hold the world's speed record—193 m.p.h.—for conventional locomotives.

The next step will be to construct a 12-mile stretch of elevated concrete track at Orleans which, when completed in October, 1969, will enable the 84-passenger, full-scale model aerotrain to be tested. This is in preparation for the Paris-Orleans service.

The French government, however, envisages that the aerotrain's greatest money-making potential will be on short interurban or suburban runs, such as connecting city

Variety Meat Comes to Fame In Peppery Soup

Let a rich soup bubble merrily in the kettle if you would properly welcome the men home on a blustery day!

Pepper Pot is a favorite among the Pennsylvania Dutch centers with airports.

I asked the aerotrain's pilot if he was not frightened at traveling 212 m.p.h. in an untried vehicle, but he merely laughed. The aerotrain is as easy to handle as any other locomotive, he said.

It can be stopped by brakes gripping the concrete rail, or in an emergency the air cushion can be turned off. The seat belts, the pilot explained, were not really necessary for the passengers' safety, but were there simply because the insurance company insisted. After driving the aerotrain the pilot, who was an experienced locomotive engineer, said he would never again be satisfied driving a diesel or an electric train.

who are well noted for the delicious food they prepare. It's especially liked by men for its peppery character which comes from both the green pepper as well as the spice, black pepper and sometimes red and cayenne pepper.

We care

What Quality Beef Does A&P Sell?

That's a fair question. But not an easy one to answer because we have our own quality standards, different from any other meat merchant.

These standards don't fit exactly the familiar terms you know for grades of meat. As an example, did you know that some beef, graded U.S. Choice, just doesn't meet our "Super-Right" specifications? It's true! You see... we don't buy by grade. We use our own high standards to bring you the best values.

That doesn't mean we don't approve of such grading—not at all. It just means we're very fussy about the beef we label "Super-Right." It stands to reason we have to be or A&P wouldn't be America's number one meat merchant.

Are "Super-Right" Meats a good reason for shopping A&P?

fense started with two tricks. If West had held the ace of hearts or if any other suit were opened it wouldn't make any difference whether North or South were declarer. As long as the defense can't take the first two tricks North and South have a cinch to make six spades and might even make seven if they played for it.

Of course, South could not visualize the final result when he did respond one spade. However he might have looked ahead a trifle and said to himself, "If this hand does play in spades, I would prefer to be dummy. It shouldn't be a tough hand to play and the only lead that can really hurt us will be a heart lead through some honor combination in my partner's hand."

That is good bridge thinking but the hog is not a good bridge thinker. If he were, he wouldn't be a hog.

Death Caused From Exposure

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Pine Bluff Police Chief William Howard said Wednesday night there were no new developments in the discovery of the body of a newborn baby girl here Tuesday.

Howard said an investigation is continuing and that all releases to the press would have to be made through him.

The baby was found clothed only in an old curtain near the Community Singing Center here. Detectives said the baby, a Negro, apparently was born Monday night and was abandoned shortly afterward.

Coroner Dr. E. Frank Reed Jr. listed cause of death as exposure.

Congressmen May End Trips to Bermuda

WASHINGTON (AP) — A scheduled visit to Bermuda by several Senate and House members for a four-day U.S.-British parliamentary conference may mark the last such session on that sunny island.

Rep. Wayne Hays, D-Ohio, said the site of future British-American conferences may be shifted "to get away from the criticism the word 'Bermuda' seems to promote."

The conference, which is to begin Sunday and continue through next Thursday, is the eighth British-American parliamentary meeting.

American attendance is at this point uncertain. Four members of the House and four from the Senate normally have met at Bermuda with a like number of members of Britain's Parliament.

"It's a good conference," said Hays, who is uncertain about attending this year. "There's a lot of give and take."

An official at the British Embassy said the topic of the meeting will be monetary policy. "The meetings will be confidential," he said.

Hays said conference organizers are discussing having future meetings held alternately in Great Britain and in the United States. He said criticism of a winter conference in Bermuda is one reason for the possible shift.

The conference schedule lists three monthly meetings at 10 a.m., with a reception each evening, and a Monday black-tie dinner for delegates and wives. It carries this footnote: "The social activities schedule is tentative. A final schedule will be received on arrival in Bermuda."

Seventeen students were formally initiated into the Hope High School Spanish Club at the annual initiation banquet, February 20, at the Diamond Cafe.

President, Mary Ellen Holder presented the following initiates with a rose, the official flower of the club: Lanette Arrington, Bonnie Bobo, Sherry Crank, Ashley Hoggard, Becky Huff, Kathy Keller, Jeanne Koen, Melissa Hohon, Mary Muldrew, Thomas Norvell, Valene Pearson, Nancy Porter, Ricky Renshaw, Jennifer Rhodes, Steve Tolleson, Debbie Watson, and Eddie White.

Following the invocation in Spanish by Butch Reeves, the President introduced special guests, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Collier, Mrs. Eloise Andrews, and Mrs. Frances Reynerson. The club sang "Happy Birthday" to Mr. Collier in Spanish. He presented the 71 club members with complimentary pen sets.

An informative program on Spain was given by Mr. Collier. He showed films highlighting his trip to that country. He then presented Mrs. Eloise Andrews, who told of her experiences living in Spain. She illustrated her talk with souvenirs.

Planning and program committee for the banquet consisted of Mary Nell Williams, Cathy Feldt, Brenda Lester, and Mary Beth Levins. Mrs. W. A. Williams is adviser.

Legislature Was Stormier

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Lt. Gov. Maurice Britt said Wednesday he felt the special session of the legislature was a "little stormier" than the 1967 Regular session.

"I think most of the oratory that took place on the floor and most of the fireworks can be attributed to the fact that a little politics was involved and some of this oratory was meant for the public," Britt said. "To the outsider it might seem like more friction than usual but I don't think so."

Queen's Shelter
When army ants rest at night, each ant clings to a neighbor, thus forming a living rope with their tens of thousands of bodies. Hanging from a vine or log to the ground, the mass of bodies makes a snug, safe camp to shelter the queen.

We wish to take this method of expressing our appreciation for the kindness and assistance given to us by the Junior Auxiliary, neighbors, friends and the Hope Fire Department when our home was destroyed by fire recently.
